MESSAGES TO THE GRADUATES

Charlotte F. Beason, Ed.D.

Chair, Strayer University Board of Trustees

On behalf of the Strayer University Board of Trustees, congratulations to our graduates!

Earning a college degree is always a challenge. But for our 2021 graduates, that challenge became bigger and more complex than anyone could have anticipated.

Reaching this moment speaks to your determination, resilience, and resourcefulness. In reaching your goals, you have exemplified what all of us at Strayer University strive for — and you have revealed the strength of your own character.

I'm sure that most of you drew on the support and encouragement of others — your family, friends, neighbors, and coworkers. In your celebrations today, I hope you will share your heartfelt thanks with those who helped you along the way, whether those people are near or far.

I know that bright futures lie ahead. My colleagues and I are proud of you, and we look forward to the accomplishments yet to come.

Congratulations!

Best regards,

Charlotte F. Beason, Ed.D.
Chair, Board of Trustees
Strayer University

Andréa Backman, Ph.D.

President, Strayer University

To the Strayer University Graduating Class of 2021:

Today we celebrate your achievements, marvel at your tenacity, and look ahead to futures filled with possibility.

This hasn't been an easy road. But in the toughest of times, you showed what you're made of. To arrive at this day, you overcame enormous obstacles and triumphed over difficult challenges — all while balancing your studies, jobs, family, and much more. You have proven yourselves to be among the most determined and resilient graduates in the long and distinguished history of this university.

You embody the transformational power of education. Through learning and growth, you have reinvented yourselves — and opened new pathways and opportunities. May that spirit of transformation stay with you throughout your lives, urging you toward even greater accomplishments.

On behalf of the faculty and staff of Strayer University, I wish you the best of luck in your future endeavors.

Best wishes,

Andréa Backman, Ph.D.
President
Strayer University

Building America's Workforce Through Education

For 129 years, Strayer has operated at the forefront of educational innovation, anticipating the skills and training that professionals need to succeed as markets evolve. Our history of preparing students to tackle tomorrow's challenges remains our mission far into the future.

1892 Dr. S. Irving Strayer opens Strayer's Business College in Baltimore, Md.

The school helps adults acquire relevant business skills to enter and succeed in a rapidly expanding post-Industrial job market.

1904 The school's popularity leads to a second location in Washington, D.C.

Dr. Strayer opens a campus at the corner of 9th and F Streets, N.W. The campus eventually became the cornerstone of Strayer University and started with just two teachers on staff.

1913 As the accounting field grows, Strayer helps students take advantage of new opportunities.

The passage of Federal income tax laws and the post-war boom leads Strayer to establish its College of Accountancy, graduating qualified professionals to work in the field.

1920 Women win the right to vote.

Strayer – which had been educating women since its founding – prepares them for roles as clerks, librarians and secretaries.

1945 The G.I. bill is established, providing higher education benefits to veterans.

To this day, Strayer proudly services veterans and active duty members of the U.S. military, providing support and flexibility that service members need to achieve their goals.

1969 Technology proliferates, and Strayer expands.

The appetite for higher education grows as technology takes off. Strayer adds new offerings and is licensed to grant the Bachelor of Science degree, becoming Strayer College.

1996 Strayer launches a groundbreaking online learning program.

The dot com boom drastically changes the business landscape. Strayer is among the first accredited, higher-learning institutions to offer courses via the Internet. Two years later, Strayer College is granted university status and becomes Strayer University.

2012 Strayer partners with business legend Jack Welch to offer an executive MBA program.

The Jack Welch Management Institute is home to a Top 25 Princeton Review-ranked executive MBA program, infused with the expertise of Jack Welch.

2016 Story-driven content emerges as a business trend with staying power.

Strayer Studios, an in-house creative team, develops immersive, compelling films around business fundamentals and course content. The films deepen students' engagement with their coursework and improve learning outcomes.

2018 Strayer opens its first café-style hybrid campus in Macon, Ga.

The new campus style allows students the in-person support they need while also providing select classes, academic advising, and a place for students to network and unwind. Finding success with this approach, Strayer has since opened additional café-style campuses across the country.

GRADUATION HERITAGE

Certain traditions are present at nearly every commencement ceremony, and some of these deep-rooted traditions have been carried on at Strayer University for 129 years.

Processional

One of the most colorful parts of commencement is the academic procession that opens the time-honored and traditional ceremonies. Strayer University's faculty and staff, along with trustees and honored guests, wear gowns indicative of their academic rank.

Caps and Gowns

This tradition dates back to the 12th century and the establishment of the first universities in Europe. Because most medieval scholars made clerical vows and took minor orders with the church, clerical robes were a scholar's main form of dress.

Today, graduation caps are made of cotton poplin, broadcloth, rayon or silk to match the gown. Only doctoral degree holders wear a velvet cap. The tassel symbolizes the degree candidate's level of academic achievement. At the end of the ceremony, a Strayer University official will ask the degree candidates to turn their tassels from the right side to the left side to recognize the accomplishment of earning their degree.

Hood and Stole of Gratitude

The academic costume is set off by one of two distinctive insignia: the Stole of Gratitude for bachelor's degree candidates and the hood for master's degree candidates. The Stole of Gratitude is a silk scarf worn around the degree candidate's neck and shoulders. Graduates can present the Stole of Gratitude to someone who provided support during their academic journey.

The hood was originally worn as a head covering in the poorly heated schools of the Middle Ages. Today, the hood's velvet edging and trim reflect the wearer's degree program, while the silk lining uses the official color of the university conferring the degree. The hood colors for each Strayer University degree program are:

- Master of Business Administration (Drab)
- Master of Education (Light Blue)
- Master of Public Administration (Peacock Blue)
- Master of Science in Accounting (Gold)
- Master of Science in Health Services Administration (Gold)
- Master of Science in Human Resource Management (Gold)
- Master of Science in Information Assurance (Gold)
- Master of Science in Information Systems (Gold)
- Master of Science in Management (Gold)

Diplomas

Diplomas were hand-written, rolled and tied with a ribbon until about 100 years ago. For safe keeping, their diploma will be mailed to their homes as soon as they have completed all degree requirements and received degree conferral approval.

Pomp and Circumstance

This song is played at most commencement ceremonies throughout the United States. The tune was composed by Sir Edward Elgar (1857–1934) and was first performed in 1901 in Liverpool, England. The song's first appearance in America was in 1905, when Sir Elgar was awarded an honorary doctoral degree from Yale University.

Today's ceremony also celebrates graduates of the top-ranked Jack Welch Management Institute at Strayer University (JWMI). JWMI is widely regarded as one of the best online M.B.A. programs in the world, as ranked by Princeton Review, Poets & Quants, Top MBA and CEO Magazine.

JWMI students have the unique opportunity to learn timeless, real-world management lessons created by Jack Welch. Named "Manager of the Century" by Fortune magazine and coined "The CEO of CEOs" in Forbes' 100 Greatest Business

Minds feature, Jack was one of the world's most respected and celebrated CEOs. Jack Welch left a legacy built on his unmatched track record of success, enormous love of people, fierce passion for winning, and unbridled desire to change the world for the better. Using his proven management practices as a blueprint, JWMI students learn how to win in business. His legacy is carried on by the over 2,000 JWMI students and 2,200 alumni in companies in every industry and across the world.

The Institute's online leadership education offerings include an M.B.A. degree, graduate certificates and executive certificates. Throughout their course of study, graduates learned relevant, actionable material rooted in Mr. Welch's and other business experts' management principles. They mastered critical business concepts in areas ranging from people management and leadership, to strategy, marketing and finance.

This is your story, too.
And it doesn't end after graduation.

Strayer University's Office of Alumni Affairs works to engage all Strayer alumni throughout their lives. We design and deliver programs, services, activities and publications that support Strayer alumni in their careers and their personal lives, as well as in their communities.

Our mission is to:

Foster/support a network that connects alumni to one another and to Strayer University

Establish professional/educational connections between alumni and current students

Build out and support alumni chapters

Develop mentor programs

Create/encourage networking relationships

Promote a positive image of the university and its students

Honor/recognize alumni service leadership in the community

Volunteer participation is free and open to all Strayer graduates who have been awarded a degree, diploma or certificate.

Mohammad Ahmed Hamdan

Master of Business Administration Candidate

For Mohammad Hamdan, an MBA was a lifelong dream. But after underachieving as a bachelor's student, he was unsure about returning to school. Although he was a successful telecom call center representative, "I was stagnant in my job," he says. "Every time I would apply for other jobs, they would say 'You don't have the qualifications.'"

His wife noticed he was in a rut. She was working toward a degree at the time, and she challenged him to do the same. "Basically, we decided to have a friendly competition" he says. Mohammad enrolled at Strayer University.

"Within the first year, I got promoted five times," he says. His new knowledge, critical thinking skills, and big-picture perspective propelled him from call center representative to team manager. And after completing his MBA, he landed a completely new role.

Today, Mohammad is a leave-of-absence coordinator helping workers manage their family and medical leave. "With my MBA, I ask questions that get to the deeper root of an issue or a solution," he says. "I present a plan to help people with their problems."

Others have noticed the change in him. "Honestly, it's opened doors," he says. His manager often approaches him with special projects and new opportunities.

With a bright future ahead, Mohammad has many options to consider. "I have big plans with my current job," he says. "I plan to apply for the lead job on a different team. I know I can do that because I have the acumen from Strayer, and I have the ability to work with people."

He'd also like to start a family business one day – a bakery that will showcase his mom and dad's amazing culinary skills. It would be a fitting enterprise for Mohammad, who's ready to watch his career rise.

Bobby Nathaniel Tann, Sr.

Digital Entrepreneurship M.B.A. Candidate

Bobby Tann had a varied and successful career, but it always felt like there was unfinished business. That's because he started a bachelor's degree in the 1980s, but had to stop when "life intervened."

He worked in radio, manufacturing, sales, and more. He managed stores, trained employees, and led teams. But he often felt like there was a gap in his knowledge. "I needed to know how to run a business the proper way," Bobby says.

On his 64th birthday, he visited a Strayer campus – just to ask questions. "They were so welcoming and so helpful," Bobby recalls. "When I left there, I was enrolled."

Twenty-eight years after starting his bachelor's degree, he was back. "The first quarter was kind of rough because I hadn't been in school for a long time. But I stuck with it, and the rest is history," he says. He completed his bachelor's degree in business administration, then pursued his MBA, also at Strayer.

"This is America," Bobby says. "If you have an idea, you can make it work. But you have to know how to sustain it." And that's where his MBA comes in. Bobby is eager to launch a business he can run while traveling with his wife. He's seeking opportunities in photography, which is a lifelong interest.

In the meantime, Bobby isn't stopping. He was recently admitted into a doctoral program at Capella University. "You're never too old to learn," he explains.

You're also never too old to encourage. "At my age, going back to school gives me a platform to help others." That includes his three remaining children, 12 grandchildren, three great-grandchildren, the young people he mentors from his job, and his church community. "I've always had the belief that when you learn something, you don't just learn it for yourself."

Jawana L. Johnson

Bachelor of Business Administration Candidate

When Jawana Johnson was in high school, she was inspired by her mother, who returned to school for a bachelor’s degree. Jawana went the college route, too. But after having her first child, she put her plans on hold.

Two more kids came along, and Jawana told herself she’d go back to school one day. In the meantime, she was doing fine – working for the City of Atlanta and earning enough to support her family.

But Jawana kept thinking about the example her mom had set – and how she wanted to set an example for her own kids. She decided to take the plunge. “You can never go wrong with a degree,” she explains.

After exhaustive research, she chose Strayer. “It was the perfect fit for me while I was working. Many of the other students were also adults with kids,” she recalls.

Working full time, raising three kids, and going back to school wasn’t easy. But Jawana found support from her family and her fellow Strayer students. “That community has helped me. Seeing the progress of other students – that motivated me.”

After earning her degree, Jawana found new opportunities. Today she is a code enforcement officer, working with businesses on licensing and regulatory compliance. Her Strayer education helped prepare her for the role. “My degree has made me more willing to speak in front of other people,” she says.

Jawana’s next challenge is to build on her education. She will soon begin a juris master program at Emory University. “The goal is a higher position with the city, handling budgets and finances,” she says.

Now that she has achieved this goal, Jawana encourages other to reach theirs. “It’s never too late to get an education. With a growth mindset, you’re going to get it done.”

Melanie Irwin-Dugdale

Bachelor of Business Administration Candidate

After high school, Melanie Dugdale never wanted to set foot in a classroom again. “I was a terrible student. I was so glad to get out of high school, and I never looked back,” she says. But years later, her tune changed – when her children were thinking about college.

“I couldn’t ask my kids to do something that I hadn’t done myself,” Melanie explains. “When I came across Strayer, I realized I could work and go to school and get my degree.”

From her first day at Strayer, Melanie noticed a change in herself. “I think a lot of it is confidence,” she says. “Strayer has helped me to problem solve, to manage my time – I’ve loved every single minute of it.”

She also noticed a change at work. As a program manager for a federal contractor, she’s seen her responsibilities grow to include new projects for additional government agencies. Today she manages teams and budgets for projects from Baghdad to Japan. “I’m able to use a lot of the things that I have learned at Strayer, and I can implement them, and it works,” she says.

But maybe the most satisfying change was in her kids. Her son, who had put off college for several years, finally decided to take the plunge, saying “If mom can do it, I can do it.”

Next up for Melanie is an MBA, also at Strayer. And after that, “the sky’s the limit,” she says. “I could see myself moving into senior leadership.”

So, what does Melanie tell others who are thinking about school? “Do it. Just do it,” she says. “If you don’t continue your academic journey straight out of high school, you can go back no matter how old you are. It is the best thing you can do for yourself.”

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Delegate Carl Jackson

*Member, Maryland House of Delegates
Alumnus, Strayer University*

Carl Jackson is a longtime Baltimore County resident with deep roots in this community. The oldest of five children, he learned responsibility at an early age while helping care for his siblings in a single-parent home. His humble beginnings allowed him to witness firsthand the area's economic, societal, and political challenges — and inspired him to be involved in efforts aimed at addressing the roadblocks he experienced.

After graduating from Overlea High School, Carl began working full time at the University of Maryland - Baltimore (UMB) while also attending Strayer University. He was tapped to participate in an Emerging Leaders program and was elected to the UMB Staff Senate, an advisory group selected by employees to work with university leadership. It was here that Carl first had the opportunity to work with a group of elected representatives to bring about change in people's lives.

He has worked on several political campaigns including both of Barack Obama's successful presidential bids, and he traveled to Georgia to support Jon Ossoff's campaign for Georgia's 6th Congressional District.

In 2018, Carl ran for the Maryland House of Delegates for the 8th Legislative District, winning the primary but falling short by 570 votes in the general election. In 2019, due to the retirement of a District 8 Delegate, Carl was appointed to the Maryland House of Delegates by Governor Larry Hogan.

Carl brings a strong leadership background, a record of community activism, and solid business knowledge to his role as a delegate. He has built a reputation as a consensus builder with a passion for Baltimore County and the State of Maryland.

Carl holds a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration and a Master of Business Administration, both from Strayer University.
