Building America's Workforce Through Education

For 129 years, Strayer has operated at the forefront of educational innovation, anticipating the skills and training that professionals need to succeed as markets evolve. Our history of preparing students to tackle tomorrow's challenges remains our mission far into the future.

1892 Dr. S. Irving Strayer opens Strayer's Business College in Baltimore, Md.

The school helps adults acquire relevant business skills to enter and succeed in a rapidly expanding post-Industrial job market.

1904 The school's popularity leads to a second location in Washington, D.C.

Dr. Strayer opens a campus at the corner of 9th and F Streets, N.W. The campus eventually became the cornerstone of Strayer University and started with just two teachers on staff.

1913 As the accounting field grows, Strayer helps students take advantage of new opportunities.

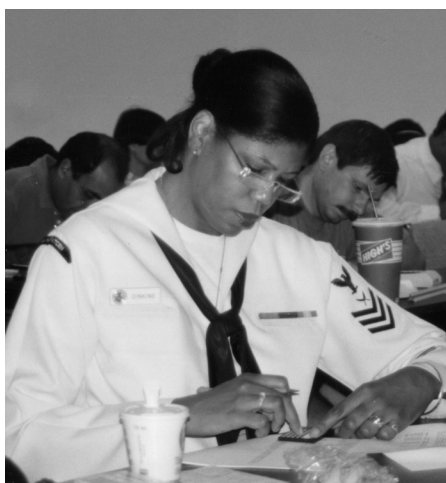

The passage of Federal income tax laws and the post-war boom leads Strayer to establish its College of Accountancy, graduating qualified professionals to work in the field.

1920 Women win the right to vote.

Strayer – which had been educating women since its founding – prepares them for roles as clerks, librarians and secretaries.

1945 The G.I. bill is established, providing higher education benefits to veterans.

To this day, Strayer proudly services veterans and active duty members of the U.S. military, providing support and flexibility that service members need to achieve their goals.

1969 Technology proliferates, and Strayer expands. The appetite for higher education grows as technology takes off. Strayer adds new offerings and is licensed to grant the Bachelor of Science degree, becoming Strayer College.

1996 Strayer launches a groundbreaking online learning program. The dot com boom drastically changes the business landscape. Strayer is among the first accredited, higher-learning institutions to offer courses via the Internet. Two years later, Strayer College is granted university status and becomes Strayer University.

2012 Strayer partners with business legend Jack Welch to offer an executive MBA program. The Jack Welch Management Institute is home to a Top 25 Princeton Review-ranked executive MBA program, infused with the expertise of Jack Welch.

2016 Story-driven content emerges as a business trend with staying power. Strayer Studios, an in-house creative team, develops immersive, compelling films around business fundamentals and course content. The films deepen students' engagement with their coursework and improve learning outcomes.

2018 Strayer opens its first café-style hybrid campus in Macon, Ga. The new campus style allows students the in-person support they need while also providing select classes, academic advising, and a place for students to network and unwind. Finding success with this approach, Strayer has since opened additional café-style campuses across the country.

Today's ceremony also celebrates graduates of the top-ranked Jack Welch Management Institute at Strayer University (JWMI). JWMI is widely regarded as one of the best online M.B.A. programs in the world, as ranked by Princeton Review, Poets & Quants, Top MBA and CEO Magazine.

JWMI students have the unique opportunity to learn timeless, real-world management lessons created by Jack Welch. Named "Manager of the Century" by Fortune magazine and coined "The CEO of CEOs" in Forbes' 100 Greatest Business Minds feature, Jack was one of the world's most respected and celebrated CEOs. Jack Welch left a legacy built on his unmatched track record of success, enormous love of people, fierce passion for winning, and unbridled desire to change the world for the better. Using his proven management practices as a blueprint, JWMI students learn how to win in business. His legacy is carried on by the over 2,000 JWMI students and 2,200 alumni in companies in every industry and across the world.

The Institute's online leadership education offerings include an M.B.A. degree, graduate certificates and executive certificates.

Throughout their course of study, graduates learned relevant, actionable material rooted in Mr. Welch's and other business experts' management principles. They mastered critical business concepts in areas ranging from people management and leadership, to strategy, marketing and finance.

Michelle Davis-Younger

Bachelor of Business Administration, 1996

Master of Business Administration, 2006

Michelle Davis-Younger is a business owner and an emerging political leader — who never expected any of it. “I thought I would graduate from high school and be a secretary,” she says. But with her father’s encouragement, she became the first in her family to earn a college degree — a bachelor’s from Strayer University.

She began a career in human resources. “I’m good at relating to people and helping them find their way,” she says. As her career advanced, she returned to Strayer to deepen her expertise with an MBA. As a single parent at the time, and with a full-time job, “It would sometimes get overwhelming,” she says. “But I would think about what’s on the other side.”

New opportunities came soon after. A former employer offered her an HR director position. “They said, ‘You’ve got this MBA, you’re ready.’ And I did feel different. I had a seat at the table now.” Later she launched her own HR consulting business, which she still runs today.

And then another opportunity arose. “Politics was never part of my vision, but I felt it was time to take it to another level and give back.” So she ran for city council in her hometown of Manassas, Virginia — and she won. Last year she ran for mayor — and won again, becoming the first woman and the first person of color to hold that office. Her background at Strayer was invaluable. “The leadership skills, the communication skills to talk to people at all levels, having to present to the class — it prepared me for all of this,” she says.

Today, Mayor Davis-Younger is focused on her city’s future. “I’m trying to make my community better,” she says. And tomorrow? She hasn’t ruled out higher office. “If the need is there, I’m confident that I could do it.”

Tiffany Bullock

Master of Science in Human Resource Management, 2021

Tiffany Bullock knows the importance of education — from both sides. As a trainer at JPMorgan Chase, she helps employees learn new skills. But when her team was reorganized into the Human Resources department, Ms. Bullock decided it was time for the teacher to become a student. She wanted to understand the HR profession on a deeper level. A Strayer University master's program was the solution.

Like many Strayer students, Ms. Bullock faced obstacles along the way: a heavy course load, a full-time job, a home life, and volunteer activities with her church. "I pushed myself to the limit," she says.

Fortunately, she had plenty of motivation. At home, her partner offered support and encouragement. At work, a mentor shared valuable advice. And she found inspiration in her five-year-old niece — and in the memory of her mother, who passed away several years ago. "I really want to make her proud. That was a driver for me."

Ms. Bullock's degree has already elevated her career, helping her earn a recent promotion. "There is so much added value now when I meet with senior leaders," she says. "I can take part in the conversation with confidence." Her degree has also opened the door to new possibilities. "I look forward to future advancement and leadership roles," she says.

Many more accomplishments lie ahead. Today, Ms. Bullock continues to enhance her career within her current company. She's also contemplating a PhD. Beyond that, she wants to give back: "I want to be a motivational speaker, trying to help young women and motivate them to know that they can do anything they put their mind to."

How would she inspire someone who's considering going back to school? "What are you waiting for?" Ms. Bullock says. "You'll thank yourself later. You are worth it!"

Manny Scott

Author, Speaker, Entrepreneur, Freedom Writer

An original Freedom Writer whose story is told in part in the 2007 hit movie, Freedom Writers, Manny Scott has energized almost two million leaders, educators, volunteers, and students worldwide with his authentic, inspiring messages of hope. On the road up to 300 days per year for the last two decades, Manny Scott is on a mission.

By age 16, Manny's story was almost over: His father was incarcerated, he missed 60-90 days of school annually from 4th to 9th grade, he dropped out of school at age 14, he lived in 26 places by age 16, and his best friend was brutally murdered. Sensing that the end of his life was near, Manny sat down on a park bench, and considered how he would make others feel the depth of despair and anger roiling in his soul. He says, "When I look back, I now see that I was heading down a path that would have destroyed me."

Then, several individuals entered his life and helped him turn the page. He returned to school and ended up in the back of Erin Gruwell's English class – a group now known worldwide as the Freedom Writers, portrayed in the 2007 hit MTV movie. She and several others helped Manny go from Fs and Ds to As and Bs. They helped him become the first person in his family to graduate from high school and go to college. Through extremely hard work, and with the help of others, Manny is now living the life of his dreams.

In 2007, he founded Ink International, Inc, an education consulting firm that has empowered nearly two million people to improve the quality of not only their own lives, but also the lives of those around them. He has helped hundreds of organizations raise student achievement and leader effectiveness in 49 states and five continents; and, leads dropout and suicide prevention initiatives.

He is now happily married, a doting father of three, a pilot, a Ph.D. student, and one of the nation's most sought-after speakers.
